No. 5.00 Fourscore and seven years ago our fathers Nos. 3.50 brought forth on this contito 4.50 nent a new nation, conceived 2.50 in liberty and dedicated to the
Nos. to 3.50 proposition that all men are created No. 2.25 equal. Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation, or any nation so No. 2.00 conceived and so dedicated can long endure. We are met on a great battlefield of that war. We have come to dedicate a portion of that field as a final resting place for those who here gave their lives that that nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we No. 1.75 should do this. But in a larger sense we cannot dedicate, we cannot consecrate, we cannot hallow this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here have consecrated it far above our power to add or detract. The No. 1.50 world will little note nor long remember what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us, the living, rather to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly Nos. .50 advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us, 1.00 that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion; that we here highly resolve that these dead
No. .0 shall not have died in vain; that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom, and that government of the people, by the people, for the people shall not perish from the earth.

Address of President Lincoln at Gettysburg, Nov. 19, 1863.
